

Informed Consent (Online Survey)

Dear students,

This study is being carried out to identify your attitudes towards e-learning during the COVID-19 pandemic with regard to gender, age, grade level, daily duration of internet use, owner of a personal computer, and level of fear of contracting COVID-19. If you give permission to participate, you will be answering a 20-item survey that could take approximately 10-15 minutes.

Risks

There are no foreseeable risks for participating in this study.

Benefits

There are no direct benefits to you as a participant. However, this study could provide positive insights regarding undergraduate students' attitudes towards e-learning in Indonesia during the COVID-19 crisis.

Confidentiality

The content of your survey will remain confidential. Your name or any individual identifiable will not be included in the collected data. Only the researcher will have access to the data.

Participation

Your participation is voluntary, and you may withdraw from the study at any time and for any reason. If you decide not to withdraw from the study, there is no penalty or loss of benefits to which you are otherwise entitled. There are no costs to you or any other party.

Contact

This study is being conducted by Dr. Irwanto, a lecturer at the Department of Chemistry Education, Universitas Negeri Jakarta, Jakarta 13220, Indonesia. He can be contacted at email: irwanto@unj.ac.id.

Consent

- I have read and understand the information provided above.
- I understand that my participation is voluntary.
- I understand that I may withdraw and stop participating at any time during the survey.
- I understand that there will be no negative consequences for withdrawal.
- I agree to proceed with the questionnaire.

Thank you for your consideration!
